I have a table, called Invoices, with a ID field called ID. I have another table, called Transactions, with an ID field called ID, and an Invoice field called Invoice_ID I need a trigger such that, when a new row is inserted into Invoices, it attempts to check if that ID already exists in Transactions. I'm not particularly familiar with triggers and I can't find any example of what I'm trying to accomplish on the web. A: you could use a simple trigger like this: CREATE TRIGGER `tri` ON `invoices` AFTER INSERT AS BEGIN SELECT f988f36e3a
